

EDI facilitates young entrepreneurs and innovators acquiring funding support for their business ventures

A TWO-DAY event, entitled 'Empre-sario-2014', that connects entrepreneurs and innovators with venture capitalists, angel investors, bankers, industry professionals and common people was inaugu-rated by Shri D. J. Pandian, IAS, Addi-tional Chief Secretary, Govt. of Gujarat, Energy and Petrochemicals Department at Entrepreneurship Development Insti-tute of India (EDI).

In his inaugural speech, Mr. Pandian mentioned that society must respect entrepreneurs as they are the players who help build the nation. In his welcome speech, EDI Director, Dr. Dinesh Awasthi said that such an effort will help create an eco-system for entrepreneurship so that the concept could be popularized among today's youth and a conducive environment can be created for entrepreneurship to grow. ■
